

Detailed table of contents

| | |
|--|-----|
| Dedication | 2 |
| Acknowledgments..... | 8 |
| 1 Introduction..... | 11 |
| 1.1 The logic: Division of insurance pools | 17 |
| 1.2 Methods and evidence..... | 24 |
| 1.3 Organization of the book..... | 27 |
| 2 A theoretical framework | 31 |
| 2.1 First argument: Information, market failure, and democracy | 37 |
| 2.1.1 Basic setup | 38 |
| 2.1.2 The asymmetric information case..... | 41 |
| 2.1.3 The symmetric information case..... | 46 |
| 2.1.3.1 Symmetric but low information..... | 47 |
| 2.1.3.2 Symmetric and high information..... | 48 |
| 2.1.4 Nontechnical summary | 52 |
| 2.2 Second argument: The time-inconsistency problem | 54 |
| 2.3 Third argument: Preference formation..... | 61 |
| 2.4 Fourth argument: The role of regulation and government partisanship..... | 64 |
| 2.5 Summary | 65 |
| 2.6 Appendices | 69 |
| 2.6.1 Appendix A: Graphical representation of the pooled equilibrium with private information and adverse selection | 69 |
| 2.6.2 Appendix B: Satisfying the insurer's balanced budget constraint | 71 |
| 3 A brief analytical history of social protection..... | 73 |
| 3.1 Before the welfare state..... | 73 |
| 3.2 Information and the emergence of social solidarity | 86 |
| 3.3 The information revolution and the fragmentation of social solidarity | 95 |
| 3.3.1 Health insurance..... | 97 |
| 3.3.2 Pensions and credit-based insurance..... | 103 |
| 3.3.3 Unemployment insurance | 105 |
| 3.4 Conclusion..... | 107 |
| 4 Private markets for life and health insurance..... | 111 |
| 4.1 Life insurance markets | 113 |
| 4.1.1 Current underwriting practices | 116 |
| 4.1.2 Innovations in underwriting practices..... | 119 |